

On "By the Grave of A. Ward"

From the Lewiston Journal

I was interested a few days ago to learn from a chance acquaintance with a man I was talking to that not only did he know that Artemus Ward was buried in the little town of Waterford, Maine, but he did not even know that A. Ward was a Maine man.

He was a reader of Artemus; seemed to know a great deal about his writings; but seemed to know the reference to Waterford, Me., and to Skowhegan were by way of contrast to this man's birth and manner of life. This rather makes me discouraged. It is rather to me that after all that has been said and written in countless books, articles and magazine reviews, every Maine resident ought to know that the representative American humorist was born in Maine and sleeps in a little grave in Maine.

I have visited Artemus Ward's grave a number of times and have told a good many people how to get there. The directions are simple. From the town of Waterford, the directions are simple. The grave is so small as to be easily missed. It is the stone marking the grave of one of the world's most famous men. I suppose there is a reason why it is so small. It is a simple, unassuming stone. It is a simple, unassuming stone. It is a simple, unassuming stone.

leading water-supplies of the United States. Should one not know the Nezincot as to the directions to the old home of Uncle Solon Chase, once candidate for President of the United States? Should one not know that there are the Bates Mills as he passes them in Lewiston? Should one not know that the Bates Mills are marked for the wayfarer to know.

One may pass Cobblescontee and not know its name. What good is advertising unless completed by the designation of location? There is more in this than mere notation. There is BUSINESS also. We are years behind the times, in this way. Passing through the gates of the cemetery, we stopped to read the sign at the gateway of the new Cement-plant. "This," said we, "is of the new order."—A. Lesson for July 15

THE CONVERSION OF SAUL

LESSON TEXT—Acts 9:1-9, 22:6-16.
GOLDEN TEXT—This is a faithful saying and worthy of all acceptance, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Saul becomes a Christian.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—How Saul became a Christian.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Conversion of a Pharisee.

I. Saul's Violent Hatred of the Lord's Disciples (vv. 1, 2).

Saul knew full well that unless the movement set on foot by Jesus was stopped it would supersede Judaism. He was ignorant of the genius of Christianity. He did not know that the "blood of martyrs is the seed of the church." Prosperity may ruin the church, but persecution, never.

The noble display of faith by Stephen in the middle of his testimony with his blood did not soften Saul's spirit, but rather intensified his hatred for Jesus and His disciples. The intensity of his madness, and the extent of its operations are best set forth in his own words, "And I persecuted this way unto the death, binding and delivering into prisons both men and women" (Acts 22:4).

"I both shut up many of the saints in prisons, having received authority from the chief priests, and when they were put to death, I gave my voice against them, and punishing them oft in all the synagogues I strove to make them blaspheme, and being exceedingly mad against them, I persecuted them even unto foreign cities" (Acts 26:10-12, R. V.).

II. Saul Kicking Against the Pricks (vv. 3-9).

The figure here is that of the eastern ox driver following the ox with a sharp iron fixed to the end of a pole. The animal is provoked with this instrument and if it is refractory it kicks against the sharp iron and injures itself.

L. A. Light from Heaven (vv. 3, 4a). The time had come for the Lord to interfere. Saul was stricken with blindness and fell to the earth. This physical demonstration accentuated the workings of his conscience which doubtless were going on quickened by the Holy Spirit as He used Stephen's testimony.

2. A voice from Heaven (vv. 4b, 5). This was the Lord's voice calling Saul by name and asking, "Why persecutest thou me?" This moved Saul to inquire, "Who art thou, Lord?" The answer came, "I am Jesus, whom thou persecutest."

3. Saul's inquiry (vv. 6, 7). "What wilt thou have me to do?" The dictator is now willing to be dictated to. The Lord told him to go into the city and that no man would be given him as to what he must do.

4. Saul entering Damascus (vv. 7-9). The haughty persecutor went quite humbly into Damascus, led by his attendants. For the space of three days he remained blind, and fasted. What went on in his soul in those days no mortal can know, but we may be assured that he, like the Lord in the wilderness, was too deep in meditation and prayer to desire food. In these days of deep meaning his whole life was being reorganized by Jesus Christ.

III. Ananias Ministers to Saul (vv. 10-19).

1. Ananias' vision (vv. 10-12). In this vision the Lord appeared and instructed him to go to Saul. He gave him the name of the street and Saul's host, and informed him that Saul was now a praying man, and that he had prepared Saul by the vision for the coming of Ananias.

2. Ananias' fear and hesitancy (vv. 13-16). He knew of Saul's ministry and the authority by which he came. The Lord encouraged him to go, assuring him that Saul was no longer an enemy but a chosen vessel to bear His name before the Gentiles.

3. Ananias' obedience (vv. 17). His fears being removed, Ananias went to the house where Saul was staying, put his hand on him and affectionately addressed him as "Brother Saul." The hitherto savage persecutor is now a brother in Christ. Ananias informed Saul that the Lord had sent him with a two-fold mission.

(1) "That thou mightest receive thy sight."

(2) "Be filled with the Holy Spirit."

Saul baptized (vv. 18, 19). After Saul received his sight Ananias baptized him. Since Ananias was not a church official, it is clearly implied that official rites are not necessary for the administration of baptism. The Lord bestows the gift of the Spirit upon whomsoever He will.

God Does Not Forsake Thee

Suppose that all men forsake or forget thee; God does not. His eye sees thee, His heart feels for thee, and His hand is able to deliver thee. Thou art not friendless, nor wilt thou be till the God of all consolation dies.—Charles E. Spurgeon.

A Heavenly Vision

To a holy heart is vouchsafed a heavenly vision. Eyes that are cleared of the mists of sin behold undimmed the face of the Lord.—Echioes.

FRYEBURG

"Truck Made Its First Trip"

A fire truck, hook and ladder variety, which Fire Chief George C. Coleman has been assembling, had its first run on the fourth of July when a fire was discovered near Louis Goodhue's camp Lower Kezar Lake. The truck was run at a speed of 55 miles an hour, and fire was extinguished before it reached the many summer cottages close by.

The truck fully equipped has cost the town $600, and if a similar truck had been bought outright, it would cost over $8,000.
